Lecture At Wednesday Club.
Mrs. Frantz Naylor, president of the Woman's Club, of Norfolk, who is recognized as a shrewdly thorough familiar with the early history of Tidewater Virginia, and a very delightful speaker, was the guest of the Wednesday Club yesterday, and spoke to the members and guests at 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon.

While her subject was "Early History of Tidewater Virginia," and her talk was based on that, she really led her hearers into a vision of the purpose and the spirit behind it, and traced the course of that fine spirit and purpose through the centuries following the landing of the first settlers.

At the beginning, the assembly sang a poem, "Planting The Cross On Cape Henry," written by Mrs. Naylor, which brought them to sympathetic attention to what followed.

Mrs. Joseph Dunington, from her seat in the audience, led the singing while Mrs. W. W. Ayres played the accompaniment at the piano.

Mrs. Naylor gave a brief resume of the history of the Tidewater section and used similar facts to illustrate the course of the American people have departed from the spirit of the first Cavalier settlers whose reverence for their inheritance, their ideals, their high purpose, distinguished them above the idle prattings and assumptions of the ignorant.

She read several selections from "Quality Street," which although somewhat exaggerated, which contain much that is of value, when unhampered, and from which Mrs. Naylor carried on the spirit of her theme, namely, the deathless spirit of the early cavaliers.

As a whole her lecture was one not easily forgotten because in it she so boldly uncovered truth in its relation to many aspects of living, and her own charming personality and manner of speaking delighted all who were privileged to hear her.

Week of Prayer at the Y. W.
The World's Week of Prayer has been observed at the Young Women's Christian Association each day during the week. Special emphasis has been placed on the World Fellowship and World Unity, each afternoon in the Girl Reserves meetings. All Y. W. C. A. groups and numerous others have entered into the spirit of the week of prayer and it is felt that services are proving a blessing to many.

The dominant thought of these meetings has been a hope that this week of prayer as it is observed all over the world is the beginning of a renewed attempt to hearten the people of other nations in their tremendous adventure to make the world one. It was said in one of the talks that the beginning of the future of mankind in achieving a world community created and unified by the spirit of Christ.

One of the most interesting meetings of the week, this week has been the luncheon table, talk on Wednesday planned for the young women employed in the stores and offices downtown. There was a large attendance at this meeting. Luncheon was served for a minimum amount. The General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Estelle J. Hinchliffe, gave a fifteen minute talk using for her theme, "The World's Week of Prayer."

Mrs. Hinchliffe emphasized in her talk the need and hope of the world, saying it is the true spirit of Christ this grave old world needs, the spirit of unselfish good will toward all men and His brotherly love for all sorts of outcast people, that will bring about a new era in world fellowship and human brotherhood.

Miss Sara Watt, president of the Business Girls Club, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," very beautifully. So keen was the interest in the luncheon table Bible hour, the girls have asked that the meeting be continued at the beginning of a series of Bible talks around the luncheon table each Wednesday from 12 to one o'clock until the end of the year.

The instructive talks given by Mrs. Margaret Russell, the well known Bible teacher, two weeks ago to the young women of Danville, together with the Week of Prayer meetings are proving of real spiritual uplift.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

I really have had no time to write you since I received your letter. I hope you will forgive me for this delay.

I expect you will be more apt to do this for by this time you have heard from Miss Anderson that directly upon receipt of your letter, I wired her asking her if she would not go back to you. She answered that she would be glad to do so, if I could promise that she would not be bothered with "Priscilla Bradford." This I took the liberty of doing.

I also told Miss Anderson that you would probably be going back to your home very soon as she had said that she would prefer a place in the country. I did this because I thought you would want to be among your old friends instead of at a strange hotel after Jack and I have moved over here.

John has been signally honored by my father in his will. He has also been made manager of the steel plant and we feel that this is his great opportunity. Consequently, we will come over here and make this place our home as soon as possible.

He will probably be back in Albany before you get this letter and tell you all the details.

I am very glad that Mrs. Burke, acting on my wire, did not allow that beautiful old desk which you so generously gave me on my marriage, to be taken to pieces. You should have known that it is almost impossible to keep a modern cabinet-maker's desk in one piece and restore those beautiful old pieces.

I must say in all kindness that I think both you and Miss Bradford overstepped all bounds of propriety in going into my apartment in the morning on any pretext whatever, presuming to look over and pry into my personal belongings.

I never want to see Miss Bradford again. She is a curious, meddling old maid and whenever she is with you she seems to be looking for something to say. I shall not interfere at all in regard to Mrs. Burke's behavior toward you. Personally I think she did just right, and I am very grateful for her looking after my interests.

I am very sorry, Mother Prescott, to have to write this letter, but I must put myself right for this once. You must in the future understand that while I shall regard you as Jack's sister, I shall not allow interference in my personal affairs.

Little Jack is very well. John will tell you about my father's bequest to him. I gave mother your message. She is bearing up wonderfully under her great sorrow. Nothing has been decided about where we are to live over here except that mother will not live with us. She says "no home is big enough for two families."

Sincerely,
LESLIE.

TOMORROW: Letter from Mabel Carter to Sally Atherton.

the time when woman's job was at the kitchen stove and man's at the office desk.

Now a new version of the "preparedness" theory is being developed. In case the lady of the house should have a card party in the afternoon that might keep her late away from home for a long while, it has been decided that she should wait to make a journey into distant lands, leaving behind spouse and children—it is as well for hubby to know how to prepare a tasty meal and how to take a place in the business world, as well, they should take turns at domestic duties.

Housewives of Brooklyn approached the American Red Cross association with their idea and it was labelled "excellent." Then the same guardians of the home approached the male, and prospective half of the family. Perhaps more hesitantly, the hunch was approved here, too.

Already more than a hundred men have been listed for the classes to start directly after Christmas—if the present scheme is not abandoned. The "forced" volunteers are coming in daily, and a woman, Miss Helen Wetherell has been appointed to teach the husbands how to cook. Manhattan is waiting curiously to see the results in Brooklyn. If they are good, she promises to follow suit.

It is not enough, the complaining wives who initiated the movement against the peace of husbands, to red for a man to be able to boil an egg or stew a piece of lamb. It is not enough to make a good cup of coffee or a piece of toast.

There is no reason why a husband should not be able to bake bread, make shoestring potatoes and crisp pie.

"An equal division of labor" is their cry, and the point which the man spends eight hours at his office, a woman's day lasts from six or seven in the morning, when she rises to get the children ready for school, until after that time at night when they are finally tucked into their beds.

Homes will be happier if the job of keeping them smoothly running is shared by two, they contend, for it is a pleasure to work with some at what is drudgery when alone. Bitterness will be less likely to raise in the heart of the young wife, if he husband shares her long hours of toil.

The idea has taken particular hold with prospective wives—and the registrations so far made are composed of at least half of prospective husbands. They are taking the lady of the house away from her job at the sewing box.

Some of the husbands are seeking to that by having a piece of the promise of a good life, and for errand males. New York members of the fair sex are going soon to the suit and it is expected that domestic realms in Chicago, New Haven and Denver will swing into line by Christmas.

The supposedly modern era when man took over his share of the household duties with a few apron and dish towel, after dinner in the evening has passed into antiquity, with

BABY'S GIFTS SHOULD BE APPROPRIATE

By HORTESE SAUNDERS
The baby's wants are few, but he is entirely too important person not to be given deep consideration at Christmas time. His gifts must above all be dainty in color, beautifully made and appropriate.

A matching sacque and jacket of very wide satin ribbon would please the mother as much as the child. For a little girl, who early in life may be expected to manifest her delight in frills and furrows, the edges may be lace trimmed and French flowers or tiny rosetts of ribbon decorate the scallops.

For the Boy
For a young man who has not yet reached the age of protest, such an outfit would be more appropriate than merely bound with ribbon, and all scallops, lace and bows eliminated. If you wish to add a little warmth to this outfit it may be interlined with a layer of flannel. Ragging, buttonholing or any fancy stitch may replace the lace edging, if desired.

Since safety pins are so much worn by the younger set, a fancy container for them would be sure to be appreciated. The touch of fantasy introduced by the two kewpie heads and the frivolous bows in the utilitarian purpose also shows just how interesting such a device may be made.

A simpler model is merely a square or oblong cushion, very soft and light in weight, covered with satin ribbon and trimmed with a bouquet of ribbon flowers.

For keeping his clothes neat and unkinked, the baby would appreciate a padded hanger, covered with ribbon to match the color scheme of his nursery.

Of course the handle should be wound with narrow ribbon, and a bouquet of fruit or flowers added for good measure. Flowers or ribbon rosettes with safety pins concealed are easily pinned on to a dainty frock to give a festive air.

For Young Babies
For a very young baby, a baby pillow is most acceptable. This should be filled with down, very soft, and not heavily stuffed. The covering should put on so it is easily removed and cleaned. The most practical pillow is made of handkerchief linen, embroidered with French embroidery, or it may be entirely of lace or it may be made of satin ribbon. The one photographed has the baby's title worked out in narrow ribbon to match the cover is made and the whole looks like a nicely frosted birthday cake.

If you can make a rag doll successfully, you have it in your power to please the baby immensely. These should always be made of materials that will withstand much rough usage, and that will not fade or run. All toys for a baby should be soft so that he cannot hurt himself on them, and so that if he insists on taking them to bed they will not hurt him if he rolls on them.

prettily and not prudish. I do not mind an occasional goodnight kiss. I dress well, too, and the men say I become wonderfully—Puzzled.

I think you're not prudish enough. A girl who lets men kiss her is not interesting to them long. Try not kissing them at all. They'll like you better for it.

Cynthia Grey Says:
You can't stop men from falling in love with us. They just will keep on doing it.

They baste us for using rouge, but they carry our vanity cases around in their coat pockets, lovingly.

They despise us for our weakness. And they hate us for the strength we have over them in an argument.

They loathe us for gossiping; yet they listen to it eagerly.

We are a puzzle to men, but they are no puzzle to us. We know that we can be unreasonable and petty and bad-tempered and slack, and that as long as we are pretty and kind, what color becomes us best, you can't stop men from falling in love with us.

They just will keep on doing it.

DREAMS
each has its own MEANING
Dreams of rain often are bad omens.

To see yourself running through a downpour, your clothes soaking wet, is a caution against entering any new enterprise; betraying a confidence or being to free in your love affairs.

To be watching the rain fall from a piece of shelter bids you be cautious, for there are those who will do you harm if you venture too far from good judgment.

TO MAKE SOUP
All gravies make a good starting point for a soup. Dilute it to proper consistency, add whatever vegetables you have, simmer for a few minutes, and then add croissants or noodles and serve.

HOT PACK
When a hot water pack is not available, place a fairly thick magazine in the oven and heat it thoroughly, then wrap in a soft blanket and use as a hot water bag. It will retain heat for a long time.

THURSDAY, NOV. 13.—You are finding the world a very good place in which to live, and you will be happy throughout the remainder of your life.

Your habit of building air castles will some day stand you in good stead, for you will see some of your dreams fulfilled.

Always be alert to the possibilities you will be offered, be energetic and cultivate initiative. But be jealous of your health, guard it closely.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, But Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky. — "I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for two or three years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much." — Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Ky.

Danville Grays In Enjoyable Dinner

The banquet of the Danville Grays, 24th Artillery, Harbor Detachment, at the Hotel Burton last night from 7:30 until 10 was a particularly enjoyable occasion in which all present shared. They were all there—the old-timers, the one-timers and the new-timers, the hard-timers and the good-timers—but before the party dispersed nearly all had been merged into the last category. The young command, headed by Captain Harry T. Adkins, First Lieutenant Harry B. Moseley and Second Lieutenant Pittsburgh Lee Suttles, now numbers in its roster 75 men, and recruiting is automatic—that is to say the recruits come in without having to be urged or besought. The morale of the command is unusually good, its personnel content, and esprit du corps is fast growing as the men share duties and pleasures together and crowd every minute of leisure with fun and manifestations of real comradeship. The committee directing last night's banquet, included Sergeant Clarence Carter and Corporals James W. Dyer and Earl R. Hollomon, who is also company clerk. To these and particularly to Mr. Hollomon, the admirable arrangements for the dinner were attributed.

Some fifty-odd members and guests sat down to enjoy an excellent meal, a real dinner, while the "Original Hi-Flyers" naturally made a hit, as all high fliers ultimately do, only this time was a very pleasing one to all. In fact, the music added much to the enjoyment of the occasion, being not too jazzy to prohibit conversation, but too funeral. When somebody called for The Rosary, not all the seven performers knew it, a circumstance which sufficiently indicates they specialize in lively melodies. When the chicken and all the trimmings had been enjoyed to sufficiency and the good cigars were lighted, Henry J. Watkins, a veteran member of the Grays of long years, assumed the role of toastmaster—by invitation, of course, and he made a felicitous and merry one throughout, his vein of reminiscence being tinged with laughter rather than with tears. After a brief introductory, Mr. Watkins called on Captain Harry Wooding, the real veteran of the Grays among the company, and the mayor spoke in an exceptionally pleasing manner, commending the fine foundation of the Grays and their contribution to the history of the old command from its organization about 1855 and enumerated most of its post-war days down to 1918. One particularly interesting phase of the reminiscences was his account of the march of the old Grays to Greensboro, before the days of railroads, when this band of volunteers had to attend to their own transportation. The references to a barrel of apple-jack evoked sighs from the toastmaster and others over the passing of "them good old days." Mayor Wooding was especially earnest in his commendation of the movement for revival of the old name and of the men who had made it possible. Incidentally he expressed his satisfaction in the fact that the community has an especially earnest and patriotic citizen in the person of the mayor, who will be able to supplement the constabulary authority should occasion arise for its services, a contingency he hoped would not arise. Later on Captain Wooding approved the suggestion that a distinctive dress uniform be provided for the company, and urged that as one of its objectives.

Toastmaster Watkins, a lieutenant in the old Grays and one of those who went to New York by selection by the governor of this command, and two others on the occasion of the funeral of General Grant, also reminisced a bit and told a joke about the Irishman suffering with mal de mer who resented the idea that his stomach was weak. While the speaker did not intimate any such thing, a suspicion existed that the author of the lyric song beginning "Oh, Mr. Captain, stop the ship; I want to get off and walk. I feel so flippety-floppety, flippety flippety, flippety flippety" had at last been discovered. Mr. Watkins, too, spoke of the history of the old Grays during the fifteen years of his service with the company and exhorted the present-day successors of the company to hold aloft the flag handed down to them by the splendid men of the past.

Lieutenants Moseley and Suttles, Messrs. Price and Taylor, newspaper guests, all spoke briefly. Some humorous messages were read by Captain Adkins and Toastmaster Watkins, involving a list of the expenses of some of the non-coms, which all enjoyed, including those at whom the jests were pointed.

Besides the orchestral music, a quartet of the Grays yielded to urging and sang two selections acceptably, while two others sang "Tain't giving rain no more," with megaphone emphasis, which found echo in abundant laughter and applause.

During the evening, Captain Adkins had read the following statement in refutation of any misapprehension that might exist in any mind as to the responsibility for the failure of any military parade on Armistice Day:

To Whom It May Concern: It is with deep regret that I learned last Monday night in the armory of the 110th Hospital and Tank Company, that the proposed sham battle would be called off and that there would be no military demonstration for Armistice Day. This decision was reached by the

MRS. DOLLAR PLANS HUSBAND'S HAPPINESS

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of "Love Stories of Famous Americans." Each week one of these articles will be published exclusively by The Bee, featuring the unknown wives of well known men.)

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Nov. 12.—Converting a cottage or a palace into a home is easy for the efficient and conscientious housewife. Much easier than the self-appointed task of Mrs. Robert Dollar of San Rafael, whose life work has been the making of a transient home for a husband who "mommies around the world."

The husband is Captain Robert Dollar, head of the Dollar Line Steamship Company, who is credited with doing more than any other man in developing trade between America and the Orient. Staterooms of liners, Pullman car accommodations, hotel suites, they're all one to Mrs. Dollar. They've had to be, if she were to accomplish her purpose of keeping a happy home. Since 1902 the couple have traveled 22 times to China, and have gone around the world twice. Their yearly average of travel is 30,000 miles!

Mrs. Dollar established their first home and she has seen to it that a happy home has been provided ever since.

Battle Hard Luck. The young people were married on a Friday, immediately after a financial panic which left them worse than penniless. Undaunted, they set out with a crew of 18 men to make a new start in Bracebridge, Canada.

Leaving Mrs. Dollar in the town's hotel, the bridegroom set out for the forest where his work lay.

Returning a week later, he found that his bride had left the hotel. The clerk could give no information, but searching a bit, the future captain found her established in a wee bit of cottage, furnished with second-hand purchases she had made—it was their own home.

Despite their financial stringency, Mrs. Dollar had paid cash for her purchases. It is a habit which has never left her.

Modern easy credit makes it much harder for young folk to save, she declares. "I believe in paying cash. This would make young couples realize that a lot of 'necessaries' are not necessary at all."

It is this thrifty trait which enabled the Dollars to turn a very advantageous business deal early in their career. It provided the ladder steps to success. Mrs. Dollar believes a wife should be business partner to her husband in discussing new business enterprises. Then, too, which her husband is witness, she keeps herself in a better frame of mind, free from moods and angry fits, undisturbed by reverses and unmindful of discomforts. "In the lumber camps I learned how much of himself a man must put into achievement of success. So I gave my husband the best of care, and kept myself well. I constantly kept myself cheerful and happy. "Nor did I tell him when little things at home went wrong. I tried to be a buffer between him and home unpleasantnesses.

Never Scolded Him. "I didn't scold him when he was late to dinner; I realized that over concentration on work is not unnatural in a strong ambitious man. "True my job seemed infinitely small a scold compared with his; but small as it was, it was never neglected. "This still continues. The captain never is bothered with travel arrangements, or the details of social and business entertaining, nor with home problems. Mrs. Dollar has no particular hobby except her support of a fan organization.

MISS BROWN IS HOSTESS TO REIDSVILLE CLUB

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 12.—On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8, the Tuesday afternoon Reading Club met with Miss Mary Wilson Brown at her country place, "Rose Hill," on the Yanceyville road.

All members of the club driving down from Reidsville arrived promptly.

Mrs. Hugh R. Scott, president of the club, called the meeting to order at 3 o'clock.

Every member was present and each in turn answered to the roll call with a short sketch on some personality of note of the Shadow stage while Mrs. Marton Oliver showed attractive pictures of each artist named.

The first number on the program was an interesting paper—"The History and Technique of the Motion Picture" by Mrs. Wrenn. Then following a paper on "The Outstanding Producers and their work," by Mrs. Hugh Scott.

The last number was a most interesting and instructive paper, "Polaris," by Mrs. McGeehee.

Then the guests were invited into the spacious dining room, beautifully decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Brown, assisted by her mother, served a delicious salad course followed by a delicate ice course, with white cake and yellow mints.

The old colonial home never looked lovelier with the glow and warmth from the open fire and the soft lights from the yellow candles of the old candelabra.

A number of friends were invited in for the social hour and many characterized this as the most delightful club meeting of the season.

The following club members were present: Mesdames H. R. Scott, M. Cummings, A. R. Walters, Will Dalton, R. W. Graham, Marton Oliver, Eugene Mott, Ben Trotter, P. W. Glidewell, John McGeehee, B. R. Stone, and Ed. Wrenn and Misses Emma McKinney, Nettie Reed and Mary W. Brown.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup
Easily and cheaply made at home. But it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes little hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dryness disappear. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. RED CROSS APPEAL IS NOT MEETING A HEARTY RESPONSE

That was the disquieting news brought in from the scene of Red Cross activities on the downtown streets of Danville last night.

The situation stood thus: Number of memberships to be sought, 1500; number paid in approximately, 450. Which means at the end of three days intensive campaigning, the Red Cross workers had secured less than one third of the number set as the goal.

The Danville chapter of this organization wishes to wind up its campaign quickly. Mrs. Charles Raine, Jr., vice chairman, said last night. But because of the apparent apathy, the campaign must be extended. One of the stock statements, according to American Legion and military committee due to the fact that D. M. I. did not have its service uniforms and therefore they could not participate and also due to the fact that a great many of the local National Guard units were unable to get off their work to participate in the battle.

On Sunday afternoon the two above mentioned committees along with the undersigned went up on the river road and picked out a suitable location for the sham battle and each was presented with a check entirely agreeable to all concerned. I state this to correct a rumor which has reached my ears tonight as it is entirely misleading. At no time did the undersigned disagree with the committee in any way, and on the contrary he offered to cooperate in any way possible to make the Armistice Day celebration a big success.

(Signed) HARRY T. ADKINS, Captain Btry. "B," 246th Art., H. D. (Danville, Virginia, Nov. 12, 1924).

A stanza of "Auld Lang Syne" was sung by the company, to orchestral accompaniment, and at the close of the evening, the musicians played the National anthem, while the artillerymen stood at attention.

A feature not embraced in the printed program, printed in the artillery colors, by the way—was the distribution by lot of prizes or gifts to all, including the guests of honor, Hollomon called the members and the holders of these, in sealed envelopes shuffled and distributed, came forward and received merchandise prizes, some of them handsome and all useful and valuable.

Had been a feature given by Danville merchants, the name of the donor being announced in each instance.

One of the developments of interest was the definite purpose and the impetus given to the movement for a distinctive dress uniform, such as other historic commands still perpetuated have for use on gala occasions.

TO RESTORE MILESTONES

RICHMOND, Va.—Plans are being laid here to restore the milestones placed on the Petersburg turnpike ninety-eight years ago by Captain Claude Crozet, noted French-American engineer. It has become known here. The stones, still standing in most instances, are said to be more or less obscured by bushes and weeds. It is planned to clear away the ground about them and to whiten them.

WILLIAM AND MARY

GIRLS PLAY BASKETBALL

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—The women students at William and Mary college will have a "strong" basketball team this year it has been declared by the coaches there. A schedule of games has been completed which includes contests with Westhampton, Sweetbriar, the University of Pennsylvania, and Adelphi. Green, gold and silver uniforms, combining the colors of the college, will be worn, it was stated.

Turner Wins Over Smith, Wrestling

The revival of wrestling as a winter sport and amusement in Danville marked by a (three-fall) match between Joe Turner and Zeke Smith, two expert exponents of the mat test of skill, strength and agility, in which Turner won the decisive fall after two bouts than ran for thirty minutes or more.

An amusing feature in a free-for-all boxing bout among five negroes, and a three-round go between two local students of the ring game, were preliminaries. Besides this, Promoter L. C. Moody, who was responsible for the program last night, outlined his plans for the provisions of the wrestling and boxing and its maintenance here by co-operation of various organizations interested in providing these diversions.

In his opening talk to the 300 or more who assembled to witness the match of the expert matmen, Mr. Moody earnestly advocated the promotion of athletics in Danville and urged co-operation among the local students of the club and other organizations here to sustain it. Incidentally, he said that he would like to see such an athletic club organized, although he would be here but a short time himself. His suggestion is boxing matches twice a month, on Fridays, and wrestling bouts on the alternate Friday nights. One of the reasons for such a program is that under the law an admission fee cannot be charged for boxing bouts, the idea being that the small contributions by the co-operating organizations would provide a single drop.

The first preliminary was styled a battle royal, five young fellows being placed in the ring for an indiscriminate pouncing match in which the survivor of the quintette was declared the winner. It was a hit and run affair, a la baseball, with the big score, and the crowd, who manifested its enjoyment in continuous laughter as three gloved bruisers hit right and left in the intervals between ducks and dodges, another antagonist appeared to starboard or port.

Mr. Mansfield, a wrestler and a former college man, was presented and made a brief talk in advocacy of wrestling as an attractive sport, closed by extending a challenge to any man in the community might bring to this city to contest with him. A three-round boxing bout between Smith and Barbour, well known local boys, was the final event of the evening. There was little rough stuff in the three rounds, and at the conclusion, Mr. Moody, referee, awarded the decision to Smith on points.

Reigning champion, Ed Ellis, of Goldsboro, referee for the feature event, was introduced and in acknowledging the presentation, expressed his willingness to meet all comers in his class. Then Turner, weighing 155, and Smith, weighing 161, appeared ready for their strenuous test. He lay for their maneuvering on the mat for position and advantageous holds, the crowd watched eagerly. Both men proved skillful in eluding the strategy of the other, but Smith finally grasped his opportunity and got a flying headlock, by means of which he succeeded in pinning Turner's shoulders to the mat after 33 minutes of strenuous exertion on the part of both men.

Turner, in the next test managing to secure a double toe and body hold on Smith, and once he secured it, he required only minutes to pin Smith's shoulders for a fall.

The third bout was another prolonged and strenuous one, continuing for 30 minutes before Turner was able to win the bout and the match. He won the last fall by a whirlwind slam in a hold which Smith finally was unable to break and by means of which he was pinned to the mat in the armory in the basement of the municipal building and was attended by several ladies as spectators in addition to about 300 men. On next Friday night, it was announced, Cyclone Peters and Johnny Kilbourn will be matched for a bout at the same place. Both wrestlers have been seen in action here before and their skill and elusiveness are well known.

Ohio State Has a Pony Backed

(By HERBERT REED)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Despite the fact that Dr. Wilce pupils have had the best of seasons in the western conference so far, there was no armistice today in the preparations for the battle with Michigan's big eleven which is expected to fill the famous Ohio stadium on Saturday with a crowd of at least 75,000 people. Ohio is a football state if ever there was one and it really matters not at all whether the state university team is winning or losing in the number of that team's supporters. They do not like to lose anyone that anyone else, but they stick by the team, and there but they stick by in sight, for Ohio wind sup the conference season with Michigan and Illinois in succession, a pretty large order for any institution.

Like other teams in the conference Ohio state has had its problems and its list of injuries that have more than once upset the steady progress through the season. It must be remembered that Ohio state has a splendid football past and that past is still very fresh in the memory of the scarlet and gray supporters. However there are no more chicks laid at hand to carry the colors to victory, and the team has faced some trying situations. Winning or losing Ohio has made something of a reputation for its pony backfield, small, elusive runners, who have done most of the zig-zagging, although there are also some bigger backs available. Against a team of such power as Michigan is expected to bring to Columbus, it is expected that Ohio state will rely for its chances of success, and of scoring at least, should that be all that is possible on wide open football with plenty of forward passing, mixed up with slicing and cut-in runs that have marked the scarlet and gray attack ever since Dr. Wilce has had charge of the eleven.

SEARCH FOR LOST

HIRENS GIVEN UP

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 10.—Rewards aggregating $1,700 have been offered for the recovery within the next year of the bodies of William and Joseph Whithead, brothers of Chicago who disappeared in the wilds of Glacier park last August. They left on a hiking trip and are believed to have lost the trail and died of starvation. Search for the bodies has been abandoned temporarily because early snows have covered the park, blotting out all possible clues.

"RED" GRANGE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Just 55 words three years ago described Harold "Red" Grange, the Illinois all-American back, whose exploits have filled more columns and made more headlines than any single football player in recent years.

He was Harold Grange then. In 1921, when he was captain of the Wheaton high eleven. Under his first picture taken for a sport page were the 55 words that described him as the star of the prep squad and a "brilliant player in every department of the game." He won the 100 yard dash and the broad jump in the state intercollegiate track meet that year, the tiny paragraph said. Just fifty-five words. And they didn't even call him "Red."

FIRPO OUTPOINTED

IN WEINERT FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12.—Charles Weinert, Newark heavyweight, outpointed Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight in a 12-round no-decision match in the Newark armory tonight in the opinion of newspaper men at the ringside.

The Newark fighter, cleverly evading Firpo's terrific right, outboxed his South American opponent in every skirmish, jabbing him consistently with his left and crossing with his right which put the Argentine on the defensive during most of the fight. But his awkwardness was no match for Weinert's skill. Although Weinert fast was tiring toward the close of the match there was no question among the ringside experts but that his shade was decisive. There were no knock-downs.

VIRGINIA MEETS V. P. I.

FIRST TIME SINCE '05

(By The Associated Press)

BLACKSBURG, Va., Nov. 12.—The University of Virginia football team will be seen in action here Saturday for the first time in the history of athletics between the Cavaliers and Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The game also will be the second since the re-establishment of relations between the two schools, which were broken off in 1905. It will be the eleventh contest between Cavalier and Gobblers, eight of which were won by Virginia and two by Tech.

Virginia won the first contest in 11895, 36-0; in 1897, 42-0; in 1899, 28-0; 1900, 17-5; 1901, 16-0; 1902, 6-0; 1903, 21-0; and 1904, 5-0. Tech broke the long losing streak by winning the 1905 contest 11-0 but a dispute followed the contest and relations were severed. Upon their reunion last year, the Gobblers lost the game 7-3.

WITH THE NORTH CAROLINA-VIRGINIA FOOTBALL TEAMS

LEXINGTON, Nov. 12.—Un-

daunted by their unexpected 3-0 defeat at the hands of the North Carolina Tarheels, the Flying Cadets of V. M. I. have buckled down to a program of thorough offensive and defensive preparation for the Kentucky game. Captain Carl Hammond and his men have determined that the Wildcats will not benefit by the same errors that cost V. M. I. several chances to sew up the Carolinagame.

All of the members of the Flying Squadron came out of the tussle at Chapel Hill uninjured, though with the usual bruises and muscle soreness. In addition to the 25 players who made the Carolina trip, Gene Ferguson, star center, will be available for use against the Wildcats. Ferguson was sent by Coach Blandy Clarkson to Youngstown, O., to be patched up by the famous Bone-setter Reese last week. When Ferguson left Lexington he could not walk without assistance, but as the result of a few minutes in the hands of the Youngstown miracle worker he has been able to take part in practice since the day after his return to barracks.

WASHINGTON AND LEE

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 12.—

Washington and Lee regards West Virginia as one of the strongest teams in the East this year and cannot be said to be unduly optimistic concerning the outcome of the annual clash with the West Virginia mountaineers in Charleston, West Virginia, Saturday. It is evident that the Morgantown eleven is one of the country's greatest scoring machines, having piled up tremendous scores against admitted strong opposition. Bethany fell 71 to 6, Geneva was swamped 61 to 0, while Colgate was submerged under a 34 to 2 debacle.

Observers at the Pitt-West Virginia battle are unanimous in the belief that the Pitt victory was the veriest fluke—that the Mountaineers presented the game to them through fumbles. Backing this opinion, they point to Geneva's ability to hold the Panthers to a 12 to 0 victory, 48 points less than the Spearsmen tallied.

DAVIDSON MEETS N. C.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 12.—

The inauguration of football games between the University of North Carolina and Davidson College dates from 1896.

Until recent years the Wild Cats had a habit of meeting the Tar Heels and taking their perennial licking like good fellows and then returning to wait another year for another. But times have changed.

In 1921 the Wild Cats held Carolina to a 0-0 tie and four years ago the Tar Heels lost 7 to 0. In 1922 Davidson was licked 28 to 0. Last year the score was 14 to 3. The Tar Heels have lost three games of the series, in 1910, 1918 and 1920, and there have been four 0-0 ties.

Carolina-Davidson games are always hard fought and interesting. The Wild Cats seem to have a habit of playing hardest when fighting the Tar Heels. They scrap from beginning to end and if they die they die hard. Last year the Tar Heels were almost swept off their feet by the Wild Cats and barely recovered in time to win.

VIRGINIA-N. C. GAME

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 12.—

The Universities of North Carolina and Virginia will stage their twenty-ninth annual Thanksgiving classic at Charlottesville, Va., this year.

Those two rivals have been meeting on the gridiron over a period of 29 years and their annual game has come to rate as one of the most important in the South.

Last year they fought on Emerson Field through a drizzling rain to a scoreless tie. Carolina has won the majority of the games played since 1916. Playing on their own home ground this year, the Virginians undoubtedly will make a desperate effort to recoup their recent losses; on the other hand, Carolina, still smarting under the sting of successive defeats suffered prior to the game in Richmond in 1916, will bend every effort to add another victory to help blot out the losses of former years.

DRY AGENT CON-

FIRMS SUSPICION

TO PROBE CHARGE OF GRAFT AND VICE

(By The Associated Press) NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 12.—A special grand jury was appointed today by Judge W. H. Sergeant, of corporation court, to investigate charges of graft and connivance with bootleggers directed at unnamed members of the police department yesterday by the Rev. David Heppburn, state superintendent of the anti-saloon league.

The special jury will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and after formalities of organization have been completed, is expected to adjourn until Dr. Heppburn and other witnesses can appear before it. The latter will probably include prohibition agents Asher and Herzog, through whose activities the arrests have been made in the last few days in connection with a general dry clean up.

Dr. Heppburn left Norfolk yesterday after a "hit" with the law enforcement agencies as represented by Federal District Attorney Paul W. Kear, State Prohibition Director Fulwiler, and Chief of Police Ironmonger. He charged that the local police force was "shot through with graft" and asserted he would produce evidence to support the assertion at the proper time.

CHILDREN OF WEALTHY PARENTS WED ON SLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Miss Delmar Elizabeth Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Palmer of New York and Chicago, eloped with J. J. Sprague last Saturday. It was announced by the girl's parents last night.

Sprague has just turned 21 and his bride is barely 18 years old. They motored to Brewster, N. Y., where they were married.

They had known each other since childhood but there was never a hint of love so that the marriage came as a surprise to both their parents and friends.

The bride's father is president of the New York and Queen's Electric Light and Power Company. The bridegroom's father, Frank J. Sprague, is a noted electrical inventor and the member of many clubs.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink and swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists advise you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirin is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night—adv.

Everyman's Investments

By George T. Hughes

SAFETY ONLY RELATIVE TERM.

One of the most difficult problems which an investment advisor is called upon to solve concerns securities once rated as sound but which for one reason or another are now mere speculations. It cannot be too often repeated that safety is only a relative term as relates to investments.

Over a period of years changes in the status of a particular industry or company in management are entirely after the character not only of a stock but of a bond. Sometimes these changes are unforeseeable. They come more often with industrial companies than with railroads or public utilities, although they are not unknown with the latter. Nearly everyone can remember when the securities of street railway companies were deemed desirable holdings for the most fastidious of investors. That was before the period of high operating costs and motor car competition.

Hindsight is no help after the damage is done. The important question is what shall be done when an investor finds himself holding an unfavorable trend. In nearly every instance an investor who has been unfortunate enough to find himself in this position asks how he can make up his loss by exchanging his stock or bonds for some other security. Now, hard as it may seem, that situation must be considered as an entirely new proposition. It is impossible to account by another speculation and there is never any assurance that the second venture will turn out more happily than the first. There is only one of two things in the hope that you should have in mind. Either you should have been seen or you should accept the loss, sell out and reinvest the proceeds into something which appears a sound investment opportunity. The attempt to mix speculation with investment as a remedy for mistakes of the kind is rarely advisable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—So far the market has been reasonably orderly though you can't prevent a little sensationalism occasionally—Can one day, East Iron Pipe yesterday and we will probably have others from time to time. I don't like the sensationalism but you can't prevent it. So long as there are people fighting you, opposing your efforts, selling short when they should be long, these things will happen. I suppose some day we will see it work the other way when individuals attempt to carry too much of a load.

I am not concerned so much about any individual issue. I am watching the development of a wonderful foundation upon which all the great and a record-breaking business structure properly for everyone and that will result in a higher level of values for all securities and therefore I say look forward with hope and confidence. I don't think the market or your own position by attempting to carry too much of a load and all will be well.

INVADERS SCHOOL AND CUT HAIR YOUNG WOMEN

Freshmen Relieve Teachers and Girls of Tresses and Clip Boys' Hair Too

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 12.—It was indicated today that whatever action may be taken as a result of the annual hair-cutting activities of students of Louisiana State University, which culminated yesterday in the members of the freshmen class invading the Baton Rouge high school and relieving three women instructors and girls students of their tresses and clipping the tresses of boys students, would await the return within a few days of Colonel T. D. Boyd, president of the institution, from Washington, D. C.

Teachers of the school stated that while the boys were at the high school many of the students, mostly girls, were forcibly taken from their class rooms and compelled to accompany the invaders to the school yard where the scissors were applied. Clippers were used on the boys' heads. The teachers also were taken from the rooms but two succeeded in fighting themselves free. Locks of the other two were shorn.
